Intention Setting

Interested in learning more about a philosophy that is free of dogma? Science of Mind is a discovery process that facilitates our continued evolution. The basic principle is rooted in Oneness, Faith, and Belief.

The predominant emotion of fear/guilt seems to be the primary experience we each continue to be aware of (in various forms). Much easier to identify in the lives of others than ourselves. Science of Mind principles contain no dualistic paradigms of separation that foster fear or guilt.

Oneness erases competition and the addiction to dualistic living, for we all come from God, Prana, Divine, Creator, or what Science of Mind refers to as The Thing Itself. I connect to the name Spirit.

Possibly one of our main intentions for the next few months is to help one another see in our lives where the concept of duality/separation infringes on our ability to fully embrace the essence of Oneness.

In short, as we establish a safe space to share, we encourage one another to apply the principle that Spirit (the Thing Itself) is all there is so you KNOW (indwelling faith) that you are one with Spirit.

Then, to live knowing we are incarnations of Spirit and Spirit expresses in and through us by the principle of cause/effect; That it is done unto us as we believe as according to your faith it is done...

As we gather, may we encourage one another to live in the Reality of One Mind, and may we create that Reality in this reality.

And So It Is,
Cynthia
